Creating a Remote Learning Environment that Works

Presenter: Jennifer Reid, M.A.

Early School Director/In-School Therapeutic Services Coordinator
Lucy Daniels Center

WHEN: Thursday, September 10, 11 AM

Is your child struggling with focus, independence, or consistent participation in remote learning? This webinar explores the structure of the remote learning environment and provides tips on creating a space in your home that supports children's developmental needs as students. Parents as well as teachers who wish to help their students' families make the most of remote learning are welcome. Participants will also be provided with an opportunity to register for a free follow-up consultation with an education professional or licensed mental health counselor at the conclusion of this webinar.
